Charter of Richmond College.

ADOPTED DECEMBER, 1891.

I. Be it enacted by the General Assembly, That the act passed March 4th, 1840, entitled "An Act to Incorporate the Trustees of Richmond College," be, and the same is hereby, so amended as to read as follows:

1. That there be, and is hereby, established at or near the city of Richmond a Seminary of learning for the instruction of youth in the various branches of Science and Literature, which shall be known by the name of Richmond College.

2. That Archibald Thomas, J. B. Jeter, Alexander Fleet, Barnet Grimsley, William Sands, Daniel Witt, Robert Ryland, James B. Taylor, Edwin Wortham, John M. Murray, Samuel G. Mason, Thomas Hume, A. M. Poindexter, Thomas N. Welch, Addison Hall, L. W. Allen, W. A. Baynham, L. W. Scely, Basil Manly, Jr., A. G. Wortham, Albert Snead, James Thomas, Richard Reins, A. Judson Crane, Charles T. Wortham, C. F. Fisher, L. R. Spilman, Thomas J. Evans, Wellington Goddin, Thomas Wallace, J. B. Stovall, L. M. Coleman, R. H. Bagby, A. J. Coons, J. Lansing Burrows, Edward J. Willis, John A. Broadus, Roscoe B. Herth, and J. R. Chambliss be, and are hereby, constituted Trustees of said College, who, and their successors, shall be a body corporate under the name and style of Richmond College, who shall have perpetual succession and a common seal, may receive and hold property for the benefit of said College, and may sue and be sued, implead and be impleaded.

They shall have power to appoint and remove officers for their own body, and a Faculty of instruction for the College, and to regulate all fees and salaries. They shall also have power to make By-Laws and Regulations, not contrary to the laws of the land. Any seven Trustees shall form a quorum, and a less number may adjourn from time to time till a quorum be had.

3. The said Trustees, or any seven of them, are hereby authorized and empowered to confer Literary Degrees upon such persons as, in their opinion, shall merit the same in as ample a manner as any other college in this State, and under the corporate seal to grant testimonials thereof.

4. The said Trustees shall elect a Treasurer, who shall give bond, with approved security, payable to said College, conditioned faithfully to discharge the duties of his office, and on failure so to do he may be proceeded against, by motion upon ten days' notice, before the Circuit or Hustings Court of the city of Richmond.

5. The said Trustees shall have power at any annual or other stated meeting, ten of them being present and concurring, to remove any Trustee, and at any time to supply any vacancy.

The number of Trustees shall never be less than twenty-four nor more than forty.

There shall be annual and other stated meetings of the Trustees at such time and place as their By-Laws shall prescribe. There may be special meetings at the call of their presiding officer, or any three Trustees, due notice of all such meetings being given.

6. The said Trustees are hereby authorized and required to admit to instruction in all the classes of the College, free of all charges except board, and in all respects upon terms of equality with other students, all ministers and preachers and candidates for the ministry belonging to the denomination of Christians called the Regular Baptists, who may be recommended by the Education Board belonging to the Baptist General Association of Virginia, in which Board all the rights, properties, privileges, powers, duties, and obligations of the Virginia Baptist Education Society are hereby declared to be vested. And said Trustees may also admit gratuitously such other students as they may think proper. And said Trustees may receive donations, bequests, and devises, or, in their discretion, purchase and hold property, real and personal, in any county or corporation of this Commonwealth, and use and control the same for educational purposes, in the founding and maintaining of schools or academies, under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the said Trustees.

7. All rights, claims, privileges, and appurtenances now belonging or any wise pertaining to "the Trustees of Richmond College," as heretofore incorporated by act of the General Assembly, passed March 4, 1840, are hereby transferred to "Richmond College."

II. This act shall be in force from its passage.

The Endowment.

The Trustees of Richmond College have abundant cause for rejoicing. The College year, in the increased patronage, in the devoted service of the Faculty, in the excellent order and in the signally fine progress of the students, has been almost unequalled in the history of the institution. While there have been no large gifts for the College during the past year, it is gratifying to report that those who subscribed on the $25,000 offer of the American Baptist Education Society are showing the highest sense of honor and faithfulness in redeeming their bonds as they become due. A hurtful report went abroad during the past year that the $75,000 which it was necessary to raise in order to secure Mr. Rockefeller's offer had really never been secured. The rumor was absolutely without foundation, and gave needless alarm to some friends of the College. Their subscription list is trustworthy in the fullest measure. It is possible that by reason of death or misfortune, or exceptional cases of forgetfulness, a few of these bonds may not be redeemed, but it will please the friends of Richmond College to know that any shrinkage that may unavoidably occur will be carefully looked after. Gifts may be made by our liberal-minded people with a view of guarding against any possible deficiency that may occur hereafter.

It may be well to remind the public that the movement to endow the Greek chair in honor of H. H. Harris, the late eminent professor of Greek in Richmond Collge, has not yet been brought to completion. A handsome sum for that purpose is in hand, but it is by no means sufficient. Donations for this memorial will be gladly accepted.

It is to be regretted that our College is still without a Department of Biology. The money for the endowment and equipment of such a department should not long be lacking.

The constituency of Richmond College must understand that fees for higher education can never pay the expenses of instruction. It is only the endowed college that can give higher education, and the efficiency of this work must always be in proportion to the income from the endowment. Our College has a scholarly and efficient corps of teachers, but they are not receiving a support worthy of their gifts or services. The College needs more endowment, and its friends should appreciate the urgency of this necessity.

Perhaps the most notable feature of our educational work in the State during the past year has been a greatly awakened sentiment in favor of academies. The College has determined to establish an Academy Fund. This money, as it is received, will be invested, and the income will be devoted to the equipment of such academies as are properly related to Richmond College. It is understood that the representatives of the College will encourage the establishment of academies at suitable places and under proper conditions, and that they will also lend their influence and encouragement to these secondary schools in their efforts to secure buildings and equipments sufficient for their work. The secondary school is indispensable, in the present educational condition of Virginia, to the highest prosperity of the College.

The College is fortunate in having some money which, as an Aid Fund, is used in assisting worthy young men in their education. Some of this money is in the form of scholarships, which gives young men free tuition in whole or in part, and some of the money is in the shape of donations by which needy young men are helped to pay board. These funds, the gifts of great-hearted people, are doing their beneficent work here from year to year. At the last meeting of the Trustees it was resolved that, wherever practicable, scholarships should be secured in the leading cities of our State to be offered to the best graduates in the high schools of those cities. Friends of the College in these cities have an opportunity to render great service to this institution by helping to establish these scholarships.

Rev. W. E. Hatcher, D. D., LL. D., President of the Trustees, is now engaged in the work of increasing the College endowment funds, and will gladly welcome the aid of alumni and of other friends of education. His office is at Richmond College, and he cordially invites correspondence.

Gifts and Bequests.

Never in the history of the world has there been such enthusiasm in favor of higher education as now prevails among the American people. There is also an increasing disposition among public-spirited people to make their gifts while they live. It is not wonderful that this should be the case. The fluctuations of fortune are many, and it is a sign of thougthfulness for people to give their money while they have it and lest they should lose it. Moreover, there is intrinsic joy in doing our own giving and in seeing our gifts accomplish their good work while we live. There is a peculiar contagion and inspiration in the gifts of the living. They are especially effective in moving others to generosity. There is also additional motive for giving our money to Christian education, and this is the distinct type of work in its essence and spirit which Richmond College is pledged to do. The quick gift is the self-doubling gift. But we know well that it is not convenient for all to make large gifts during their lifetime. They cannot take their capital from their business without crippling their living. At the same time their hearts burn with large desires and they cherish the thought that as they come to the end of life they will devote their substance entirely, or in part, to Christian education. There are many names which the friends of Richmond College always utter with gratitude and affection—those who in dying remembered the College and gave of their fortune for its upbuilding. Their names are forever identified with the College, and will not be forgotten. Let not the trustees of God's gifts forget to handle them carefully for the good of humanity and for the glory of God.

Form of Bequest.

Of Interest to New Students.

The next Session begins September 24, 1903.

New students who inform the President of the hour of their expected arrival in Richmond will be met at train on September 23d or 24th by a member of the College Y. M. C. A., wearing the College colors, crimson and blue. The Y. M. C. A. offers this courtesy only on the days mentioned.

The Refectory opens for the reception of boarders Tuesday, September 22d.

Students furnish their own rooms. The articles, conveniently brought from home, are one pillow and cases, one quilt, one pair of blankets, sheets, towels, and toilet articles.

Rooms will be assigned whenever application is made. The best are usually engaged before opening of the session. A committee from the College Y. M. C. A. will be in the President's office to assist new students in the selection of rooms, room-mates, and to show them other courtesies.

Matriculation begins on Wednesday, September 23d. On Thursday evening the students are publicly welcomed by representatives of the city and the College.

College classes are organized on Friday.

Interesting reunion exercises are held by the Literary Societies on Friday and Saturday evenings.

Besides the Proficiencies and Diplomas mentioned above, there were awarded at Commencement 630 Certificates of Distinction to students who had passed satisfactory examinations in Sub-Junior, Junior, and Intermediate classes.

General Statements.

Richmond College undertakes to provide instruction as broad and thorough as can be had in any purely secular institution, and, in addition, to surround the student with influences most conducive to the development of Christian character. Its tests of scholarship are rigid and the standard of graduation is unusually high, while the physical, social, and religious welfare of its students is regarded as no less important.

Location.

The founders of the College showed rare wisdom and foresight in selecting a location for their institution. Richmond is not only the capital of Virginia, but is the best known city in the South, and one of the historic cities of the world. Enduring memorials of American heroes constantly teach lessons of patriotism and inspire the young with noble ideals. The busy city, with its varied manufactories and extensive commerce, reminds the student that the modern scholar must be practical as well as learned.

Richmond is also a city of religious influences, and its able and eloquent pulpit is an efficient aid to culture. The temptations to young men away from home are but little greater than in a village, and are counteracted by better police regulations and by the wholesome moral tone of an exceptionally religious city. Life on the campus is remarkably free from temptation. In no other community of similar size, except at some other Christian colleges, will there be found so large a proportion of active Christians, or such strong and pervasive moral and religious influences.

Richmond lies midway between the severe cold of the North and the relaxing heat of the South. The nine months of the scholastic year have few days either too cold or too hot for comfort in studying or in outdoor exercise. By its elevation—on hills opposite the falls of the James—the city is largely free from the malaria of tidewater and also from the pulmonary and enteric diseases of the mountain region. For thirty years there have been but few serious cases of sickness—none that could be ascribed to local causes.

Grounds and Buildings.

The College buildings stand in a beautiful park of thirteen acres, situated in the western and most elevated part of the city. This is the residence section, and abounds in homes of wealth and culture. These natural advantages have been supplemented by municipal improvements, including gas and electric lights, a water supply, and a thorough system of drainage. The sanitary arrangements are first-class in every respect. Thus health, comfort, and means of recreation in open-air exercises, with sufficient seclusion to promote study, have been provided for and will receive constant attention.

The main building stands near the middle of the campus, and from it the surface slopes gently down on every side to the encompassing streets. The north wing, 46x104 feet, is devoted mainly to dormitories, 18x14 feet, high pitched, well lighted, and ventilated by open fireplaces. The center building, 110x42 feet, contains on first floor a chapel with seating capacity of eight hundred; on second floor, lecture-rooms, well furnished with blackboards, maps, charts, and other appliances; and on the third floor three handsomely furnished halls, 30x40 feet, for the College societies. The south wing contains a Library Hall dedicated to the memory of Dr. J. B. Jeter, and on the second floor a spacious and elegantly furnished Museum and Art Gallery, a memorial to James Thomas, Jr. All these public halls are heated by steam.

Directly in the rear of the main building is a Dining Hall, with needful conveniences, and a Gymnasium and Bath-Room under the same roof. On one side of this, and in the same line, making a row parallel to Lombardy street, is a cottage for students, with rooms arranged in pairs, study, and chamber, each 9x14; also two residences of professors. On the other side are three such residences. Thus the students are brought all the time within the personal influence of at least five professors and their families, and the social, religious, and literary life of the College is very greatly promoted.

New Buildings.

On November 17, 1899, two new buildings were opened. These buildings are known as Science Hall and Memorial Hall. The former cost, with equipment, thirty thousand dollars; the latter twenty thousand dollars. Both are built of pressed brick, with granite trimmings.

Science Hall measures 120x51 feet, and is three stories above a basement. The well-lighted basement contains boilers for heating three buildings with steam, and also shops and apparatus rooms. The twenty-seven rooms above the basement are all devoted to instruction in the natural sciences. On the first floor are three laboratories for chemistry, a lecture hall, a library-room, a balance-room, professor's office, and two supply rooms for chemicals and apparatus. The first year laboratory accommodates fifty students at one time. The second year laboratory has desks for twenty-four. The lecture-room has terraced seats arranged in semi-circles, with places for one hundred and twenty-five students.

The arrangements in the department of physics are similar to those made for chemistry, each school occupying an entire floor. Rooms are provided on the third floor for instruction in biology. All lecture-rooms and laboratories are ventilated by the most improved system. The entire building is supplied in every part with water, gas, and electricity. No trouble has been spared to make this hall one of the best of modern buildings for the purpose of teaching laboratory sciences.

Memorial Hall was erected to furnish lodgings for students and also to commemorate the lives and deeds of Virginia Baptists who have worthily contended for the principles of the denomination. Besides rooms named for individuals, both men and women, the Hall contains a spacious fire-proof room with memorial windows, in special remembrance of those heroic preachers who suffered during the struggle for religious liberty in Virginia. The room has been placed in charge of the Virginia Baptist Historical Society.

The building contains lodgings for seventy students. It is heated by steam and furnished with tub and shower baths.

Organization.

The College is composed of nine academic schools, or departments, and the professional school of Law. Instruction is also given in Biblical Literature and Physical Culture. The Faculty consists of a president and nine professors, each responsible for the efficient conduct of his own school. The president has general oversight and direction of the discipline of the College, but may refer to the Faculty cases calling for serious penalty.

The system of schools has many advantages. Among them the following deserve attention: The professor feels the full force both of individual duty and personal ambition; the course of instruction can readily be enlarged or altered to adapt it to the progress of science and to the varying wants of the times; the student, whose aims or preparation require, can select a course suited to his peculiar case; he can enter, in any department of study, the classes for which he is prepared, and deficiency in one branch does not retard him in another; students are not divided into fixed classes and grades, but all stand on a footing of social equality, and mingle freely with one another; the system favors the utmost thoroughness of culture, and the requirements fixed for graduation lend unity to the whole; the degrees being awarded to fewer persons than under a curriculum, are therefore of more value; and every good student, whether he takes a degree or not, receives a testimonial to his success in the shape of Certificates or School Diplomas.

Discipline.

The deportment of a Christian gentleman is the standard to which every student is expected to conform. All appropriate means are used to develop and confirm a sense of personal honor and sacred regard for truth, as upon these rests the best reliance for good conduct. A few plain and reasonable rules are prescribed, and each matriculate must pledge himself to obey them. The following regulations are now in force:

I. Each student shall attend punctually every lecture, recitation, and examination held in the classes of which he is a member, and shall furnish at the specified times the written exercises appointed for such classes. If a student is absent or tardy, he shall, at the first opportunity thereafter, offer explanation of such absence or tardiness to the Professor in charge.

II. The President will assign students to rooms. Occupants will be held responsible for the good order of their rooms, as well as for any damage or defacement they may sustain. No person, other than an officer of the College, has any right to enter a lodging except upon invitation of the occupants. Changes from one room to another may be allowed by the President, but must not be made without his previous consent. Residents in any Dormitory will be charged pro rata for all damages to the building not individually accounted for. All students occupying rooms on the campus are required to attend the conference of professors and students, held every Wednesday morning throughout the session, 8:40 to 9 A. M.

III. A resident student desiring to leave the premises during the hours when, by the Schedule of Recitations, he should be in his class, shall get permission from the President. Any student desiring to be absent from College shall get the President's permit in writing and exhibit it to each of his Professors.

IV. Students shall at all times carefully abstain from unnecessary noise, particularly in the College buildings, and from everything likely to prevent study on the part of others. Loafing in the rooms of other students during the hours appropriated to study is especially forbidden. Games and all forms of playing on the College Campus are forbidden except from 2 P. M. to 8 P. M., and on Saturdays from 12 M. to 8 P. M.

V. The Faculty regards hazing as a serious offense against College order. All forms of hazing are strictly forbidden.

VI. If a student destroy, deface, or in any way damage College property, or aid and abet others in so doing, he shall, within twenty-four hours, report the fact to the President in writing, and pay (to the Treasurer) the necessary cost of repairs; otherwise double that amount will be charged against his contingent deposit, which must be renewed whenever exhausted by such charges. Playing ball in the buildings and throwing water from the windows or porches are strictly prohibited.

VII. No student shall bring upon the premises or keep in his possession any playing cards, intoxicating liquors, dogs, or deadly weapons.

VIII. No Clubs or Societies shall be formed unless the Faculty, on application made, approve the design of such Association, the rules by which it proposes to be governed, and the hours of meeting.

In the observance of these rules and in all matters not specially mentioned, the deportment of a gentleman and a student is the standard to which every one is expected to conform. His sense of honor is the main reliance, and his word in matters touching his own conduct will be called for at the discretion of the President.

Whenever the President learns that a student is not improving his time, or is living disorderly, he first advises and admonishes the young man before any penalty is imposed, except in grave offenses. It is neither the desire nor the purpose of the authorities to disgrace any student, but every one must live a pure, orderly and busy life, or withdraw from the College. Idling, card playing, and all other forms of dissipation are strongly condemned by the authorities, and students who persist in these things will be disciplined and may be dismissed.

The College is neither a reform school nor a prison, but an institution of learning, and the opportunities it offers for a sound Christian education at moderate cost are to be looked upon as high privileges, in return for which those who attend upon its instruction are under a positive obligation to make the most of the advantages placed at their disposal by the munificence of its founders and benefactors. The President and members of the Faculty hold themselves at all times ready to assist and encourage those young men who are earnest in their search after knowledge; but if there be any in whom the spirit of earnestness does not exist, or in whom it cannot be inculcated, they are hereby warned that Richmond College is not the place for them. It is gratifying to add that, during the session 1902-'03, the behavior of students was so excellent that the Faculty was required to act upon only one case of discipline.

Religion.

Students have easy access to all the advantages afforded by the various city churches with their Bible classes and Sunday-schools. Those who are professors of religion may bring with them letters of commendation, and without severing their ecclesiastical connections at home, attach themselves while here to some church, so as to have a church home, with the sympathy and care of a pastor. The daily duties of the College are opened with brief devotional exercises, conducted by the President and attended by professors. Prayer-meetings, conducted by the students themselves, are held twice or oftener every week. Attendance on religious exercises is entirely voluntary. All students resident in college buildings are expected to attend a "Wednesday Conference" of professors and students, held every Wednesday at 8:40 A. M. This conference is generally opened or closed with brief religious exercises. The object of the conference is to promote the social and moral well-being of the college community.

Courses of Instruction.

I. School of Latin Language and Literature.

Professor Foushee.

The course of study, embracing four years, is indicated by the text-books used in the several classes. Students entering the school will be classed according to their preparation. For the lowest class there is required such acquaintance with the elements of Latin grammar as will enable one to begin to translate with profit.

The SUB-JUNIOR and JUNIOR Classes are persistently drilled in the forms and the syntax of the language, with due attention to quantity. The INTERMEDIATE and SENIOR Classes continue to give needful attention to grammatical principles, while they are required to attain a good vocabulary and to imbibe the spirit of Latin literature by an extensive course of reading, somewhat varied from year to year. In all the classes the student's progress is tested, and his powers of analysis and composition are cultivated by written exercises in rendering English into Latin and Latin into English. The disciplinary power and cultural value of the study of Latin are equally emphasized.

TEXT-BOOKS.

Sub-Junior.—Second Year in Latin (Ginn & Co.); Nepos (American Book Company); Bennett's Latin Composition; Bennett's Latin Grammar.

Junior.—Sallust's Catiline (Ginn & Co.); Cicero's Orations and Letters; Vergil's Aeneid (Ginn & Co.); Hexameter Verse; Collar's Practical Prose Composition; Gildersleeve's Latin Grammar.

Intermediate.—Livy, I., XXI., and XXII.; Horace, Odes, Satires, and Epistles (Ginn & Co.); Meters of Horace; exercises in Latin Prose Composition based on Cicero's De Senectute and De Amicitia; Gildersleeve's Latin Grammar; Mackail's Latin Literature.

Senior.—The Satires of Juvenal; The Annals of Tacitus, Plautus, Menaechmi, Terence; Crowell's selections from Lucretius, Catullus, Tibullus, Propertius, Ovid, and Lucan. Exercises in Latin Composition; Gildersleeve's Latin Grammar.

For Reference: Harper's Latin Lexicon; Ginn's Classical Atlas; Gayley's Classic Myths.

II. School of Greek Language and Literature.

Professor Harris.

The aim of this school is to give the student an appreciative acquaintance with the best Greek authors and inspire a love for Hellenic studies. From the beginning of the course exactness will be insisted upon. In all classes reading at sight will be practiced, and English will be put into Greek, either as a set exercise or at dictation. At suitable times there will be conferences on Greek life, mythology, history, literature and art, and at all times an effort will be made to lead the student into a keener appreciation of the genius of the Greeks, and to cultivate a sense for their literary standards.

The work of this school is embraced in the following courses:

I. SUB-JUNIOR CLASS.—This class begins with the alphabet, and is occupied in securing a thorough knowledge of forms, a working vocabulary, and the fundamental points of syntax. In the spring, the Anabasis will be taken up, and one or more books will be read. Five hours a week throughout the year. To enter this course a knowledge of Latin is prerequisite.

II. JUNIOR CLASS.—This class will complete four books of the Anabasis and then take up Lysias, or some author to be selected. Especial attention will be paid to forms and inflections. Weekly exercises in composition; translation at sight; grammar. Five hours a week throughout the year.

III. INTERMEDIATE CLASS.—This course will be subject to change as the needs of the students may dictate. The work will center around Plato, the Drama, and Homer. Weekly exercises in composition; brief lectures on Greek philosophy, the Drama, Homer, and their relations to Greek life. Work will be assigned for private reading, on which the student will be examined.

IV. SENIOR CLASS.—In this course the work will center around Thucydides and Demosthenes. Work will also be assigned for private reading in Herodotus and the Attic Orators. The course will be made as general as is consistent with thoroughness. Lectures on literature, grammar and rhetoric.

GREEK TESTAMENT.—If there is sufficient demand, provision will be made for a study of the New Testament in Greek. This class is not given College credit, but finds in itself its own reward. The work will be made as practical as possible.

TEXT-BOOKS.

Sub-Junior.—White's First Greek Book; Harper & Wallace's or Goodwin's Xenophon's Anabasis; Babbitt's Greek Grammar.

Intermediate.—Towle's Plato's Protagoras; Flagg's Euripides' Iphigenia; D'Ooge's Sophocles' Antigone or Humphrey's Aristophones' Clouds; Seymour's Homer's Iliad or Perrin's Homer's Odyssey; Seymour's Homeric Language and Verse.

Senior.—Frost's Sicilian Expedition; Merriam's Herodotus; D'Ooge's or Tyler's Demosthenes' De Corona; Jebb's Selections from the Attic Orators; Gildersleeve's Syntax of Classical Greek (Part I.); Jebb's Greek Literature.

Greek Testament.—Westcott & Hort's Greek New Testament.

Through the College library the student has access to all necessary works of reference.

III. School of French and German.

Professor Boatwright.

Instruction in this department is adapted to give the student a knowledge of vocabulary and grammatical structure sufficient to enable him to read French and German literature with understanding and pleasure; secondarily, to teach him to speak these languages, and to understand them when spoken. In junior classes, modern authors are read, and language is taught as an art. In senior classes, more attention is paid to the classics and to the scientific study of language structure. Much time is devoted to the history of literature. Frequent essays are required.

The course is varied from year to year in order that advantage may be taken of the latest and best helps in this department of study. The following text-books will be used during the session 1903-4.

TEXT-BOOKS.

FRENCH.—Junior Class.—Five Hours a Week.—Edgren's French Grammar; Kuhn's French Reading for Beginners, published by Henry Holt & Co.; Le Voyage de M. Perrichon; Le Cid. Frequent dictation, conversation, and theme writing, based on French to be assigned.

Senior Class.—Four Hours a Week.—Edgren's French Grammar and Cameron's French Composition once a week throughout the session. Fall Term.—Kastner and Atkins' Short History of French Literature; Merimee's Colomba. Parallel, Super's Histoire de France. Winter Term.—Corneille's Polyeucte, Racine's Andromaque, and Moliere's L'Avare. Parallel, Bruno's Le Tour de la France, Moliere's Les Precieuses Ridicules and Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme. Spring Term.—Hugo's Hernani and Scenes de Voyage; Canfield's French Lyrics. Parallel, Lamartine's Grazilla and Dumas' La Tulipe Noire (Brandon's or Fontaine's Abridgment accepted).

GERMAN.—Junior Class.—Five Hours a Week.—Joynes-Meissner's German Grammar; Wesselhoeft's German Composition; Vos' German Conversation; Storm's Immensee; Heyse's Das Madchen aus Treppi; Zschokke's Der Zerbrochene Krug; Schiller's Wilhelm Tell.

Senior Class.—Four Hours a Week.—Joynes-Meissner's German Grammar and Harris' German Composition once a week throughout the session. Fall Term.—Goethe's Hermann and Dorothea, Sudermann's Frau Sorge. Parallel, Schiller's Maria Stuart. Winter Term.—Hosmer's German Literature, Lessing's Nathan der Weise. Parallel, Hauff's Lichtenstein (Vogel's edition). Spring Term.—Heine's Prose (Faust's edition), Von Klenze's Deutsche Gedichte. Parallel, Freitag's Doktor Luther.

Examination requirements in the senior course place the work known as "Parallel" on an equal footing with class-work. Students often find it advantageous to do all or a part of this work during the summer vacation.

Applicants for admission to senior classes are expected to have completed the full equivalent of the College junior courses. Knowledge of grammatical forms and familiarity with irregular verbs will be required. Previous drill in conversation is also very desirable.

IV. School of English Language and Literature.

Professor Chandler.

The object of this school is to give the student a mastery of spoken and written English, to acquaint him with good literature, and to introduce him to the study of philology. To this end the work is divided into four classes:

I. Junior Class.—This class studies carefully English Grammar and the outlines of Rhetoric. A brief course in the history of English Literature will also be introduced, and one theme a week will be required.

II. Intermediate Class.—This class continues the study of the history of English Literature, and takes up the main outlines of American Literature. Composition work will be continued, and a brief course will be given in Old English.

III. Senior Class.—Language.—This class will study in greater detail Old English and its development into Modern English. Comparative philology will receive considerable attention; therefore some knowledge of French, German, Latin, and Greek is desirable.

IV. Senior Class—Literature.—The "laboratory" method will be used in this class. The works of three writers will be studied, and much collateral reading will be assigned. From year to year this class will be changed.

Junior English is required for B. A. and B. S. No student will be allowed to enter the Senior Language Class or the Senior Literature Class unless he has completed the work in the Junior and Intermediate Classes.

I. JUNIOR CLASS—Fall Term.—English Grammar and American Literature. Winter and Spring Terms.—American Literature (continued) and Rhetoric. Much stress will be placed upon composition work, and one theme a week will be required.

II. INTERMEDIATE CLASS—Fall Term.—For session 1903-1904, the history of American Literature and selections from Poe and Emerson will be studied. Winter Term.—The history of English Literature and Shakespeare. Spring Term.—Shakespeare(continued) and a brief course in Anglo-Saxon. Compositions every two weeks.

III. SENIOR CLASS—LANGUAGE.—In this class comparative philology will receive considerable attention; therefore some knowledge of French, German, Latin, and Greek is desirable. Fall and Winter Terms.—Anglo-Saxon and History of the English Language. Spring Term.—Chaucer. Essays.

IV. SENIOR CLASS—LITERATURE.—The "laboratory" method will be used in this class. For session 1901-1902, Elizabethan Literature was studied; and for session 1902-1903 Nineteenth Century Literature was the subject. For session 1903-1904, for special reasons, the Nineteenth Century course will be repeated. The authors for study will be Wordsworth, Shelly, Browning, and Tennyson. Essays. Junior English is required for B. A. and B .S. No student will be allowed to enter either the Senior Language Class or the Senior Literature Class unless he has completed the work in the Junior and Intermediate Classes.

TEXT-BOOKS.

Junior Class.—Whitney's Essentials of English Grammar; Carpen-ter's Rhetoric, and Matthew's Introduction to American Literature. Collateral reading from Longfellow, Irving, and Cooper.

Intermediate Class.—Pattee's American Literature, Pattee's Foundations of English Literature; Baskerville, Harrison, and Hall's Anglo-Saxon Reader; Poe and Emerson and Shakespeare (texts to be selected). Collateral reading from Franklin, Lowell, Timrod, Lanier, Ascham, Jonson, Bacon, Milton, and Shakespeare.

Senior Class.—Language.—Baskervill, Harrison, and Hall's Anglo-Saxon Reader; Emerson's History of the English Language; Chaucer (texts to be selected). Collateral reading: Hall's Beowulf, Phœnix and Judith, and Morris' and Skeat's Specimens of Early English, Part II.

Senior Class.—Literature.—Saintsbury's Nineteenth Century Literature; Wordsworth, Shelby, Browning, and Tennyson(texts to be selected). Collateral reading from Byron, Keats, Coleridge, Macaulay, Carlyle, Pater, and Newman.

V. School of Mathematics.

Professor Gaines.

This school offers a course of pure Mathematics extending over four years. The work of the lowest class pre-supposes a thorough knowledge of Arithmetic and of Elementary Algebra through simple Equations.

The aim of the course is not so much to make specialists of a few enthusiastic students as to give thorough mental discipline to the many. It is intended to increase the student's power of independent, earnest, honest investigation; to encourage the habit of stating with clearness and exactness his own convictions, and of giving logically his reasons for them. Throughout the entire course numerous exercises and original problems are given to stimulate the student's confidence in his own reasoning, and to cultivate his power of invention.

But while mental development is the chief aim, still it is believed that the student who masters the course given below will have realized something of the power and elegance of the science, and the magnitude of the field that lies before him; and if he should wish to pursue the subject further, will have acquired sufficient knowledge of Mathematics and mathematical methods to be able to continue his studies in the graduate courses offered in the leading universities of America.

SUB-JUNIOR CLASS.—Algebra through Quadratic Equations and Plane Geometry. (Five times a week).

TEXT-BOOKS.

Hall and Knight's Elementary Algebra, Beman and Smith's Geometry.

JUNIOR CLASS.—Solid Geometry, Advanced Algebra, Plane Trigonometry. (Five times a week).

TEXT-BOOKS.

Beeman and Smith's Geometry; Fisher and Schwatt's Algebra; Wentworth's Trigonometry.

INTERMEDIATE CLASS—Fall Term.—Analytic Geometry (three times a week). Winter Term—Elementary Differential Calculus (three times a week). Spring term. Elementary Integral Calculus (twice a week) and Theory of Equations (once a week).

TEXT-BOOKS.

Briggs-Bocher's Analytic Geometry; McMahan and Snyder's Differential Calculus; Murray's Integral Calculus.

SENIOR CLASS—Fall Term.—Advanced course in Differential and Integral Calculus (three times a week). During the Winter and Spring Terms there are lecture courses on special topics in mathematics varied from year to year. Two of the following courses will be given each year:

(1) An elementary course in Differential Equations. (2) The theory of Infinite Series and Products. (3) The theory of complex quantities with a brief introduction to the theory of Functions. (4) The theory of Invariants and Covariants, with applications to geometry. (5) Modern methods in geometry. As parallel work the students are required to read a short history of mathematics in order that they may know something of the development of the science and of the mathematicians who have principally contributed to this development.

The subject of Land Surveying is taught in an additional class open to students who have finished the junior class. Much of the time devoted to this class is spent in the field, thus giving the students familiarity with the instruments used and considerable practice in doing the field work.

TEXT-BOOK.

Gillespie's Land Surveying.

VI. School of Physics.

Professor Winston.

The School of Physics embraces the several subjects usually grouped under this title, or under the practically equivalent name—Natural Philosophy. These include the General Properties of Matter; Mechanics proper, or the cardinal doctrines of Force, Equilibrium, Motion, and Energy, in their various kinds, their relations to the several states of matter, and their practical applications; the phenomena and laws of Sound, Light, Heat, Magnetism, and Electricity, and the applications of these in our daily life.

The method of instruction is by text-books and by lectures, for the most part referring to the text, with daily examinations upon both text and lecture, and written exercises. To these are added full and systematic courses of Laboratory instruction, for which the rooms and outfit of the new "Science Hall" give ample facilities. The Department of Physics occupies eleven excellent rooms in this building. The laboratory equipment is already good, and will be added to from time to time, especially in the Department of Electricity.

The JUNIOR CLASS, known also as the class in Experimental Physics, begins with the elements, and pursues the course with the aid of abundant experiments and illustrations, both in the lecture-room and in the laboratory, and with continual reference to practical applications. The effort is made to combine in a course of modern Physics the freshness and attractiveness of an experimental and practical treatment, with the rigorous accuracy, the scientific method and the exact discipline which may form the basis for future scientific work. It is required for admission to this class that the student shall have an acquaintance with Elementary Algebra, and Plane Geometry, equivalent to the completion of the course in the Sub-Junior Class of Mathematics.

Four lectures a week and four hours of laboratory work in this class.

In the SENIOR CLASS the subjects mentioned above are again taken up in the proper order, and are studied as completely as possible from the vantage ground of the knowledge gained in the Junior Class, and with additional aid to be found in the free use of mathematical principles. A more advanced course of Laboratory work is also given. An acquaintance with advanced Mathematics, equivalent to the completion of the Intermediate Class, is necessary for admission to this class.

Three lectures a week and three or more hours of laboratory work in this class.

TEXT-BOOKS.

Junior.—Gage's Principles of Physics will be the principal text-book, with others for reference. Gage's Physical Measurements was the laboratory manual used last year.

Senior.—Carhart's University Physics, with reference to Barker's Advanced Physics, Daniell's Physics, and Watson's Physics. The Laboratory Book used last year was Ames and Bliss' Manual of Experiments in Physics.

Astronomy.

Heretofore the course in Junior Physics has embraced a brief study of Celestial Physics, or Astronomy. This was studied mainly as affording on the largest scale illustrations and applications of physical principles. The last six or seven weeks of the session were given to it.

The full introduction of Laboratory work consequent upon the occupancy of the new Science building, and the constant enlargement of the courses in Physics proper, have rendered this addition of Astronomy as a part of the course in Physics no longer practicable.

It is designed, however, to continue the teaching of Astronomy in the College. It will remain in connection with the Department of Physics, but will be made hereafter an independent class. The course will be general and elementary, and will be adapted especially to students having some acquaintance with the elements of Mathematics and of Physics. One lecture a week throughout the session will be given, with some written exercises, and some Observational and Laboratory work.

TEXT-BOOK.

Young's Elements of Astronomy, with Lectures.

VII. School of Chemistry.

Professor Hunter.

Two distinct but entirely compatible objects are kept in view in the work of this school. The first is to familiarize the student with the more important chemical compounds and the fundamental laws governing their formation and decomposition. The second object is to stimulate the student to critical observation and classification of phenomena, and thus to acquire skill in inductive reasoning.

The first floor of Science Hall was arranged specifically for the work in this school, and contains laboratories and lecture-rooms provided with the best appointments. The subjects offered are taught in two classes, each extending through the session of nine months.

JUNIOR CLASS.—During the fall and winter terms the occurrence, preparation and properties of the elements and their chief compounds, together with the fundamental laws of the science are carefully considered. Frequent reference is made to important applications of chemical facts and laws in the industrial arts.

During the spring term, a brief but concise course in Geology is given, special emphasis being laid on the dynamic agencies now acting on the earth as furnishing the key with which to unlock the history of its past. Three lectures and four hours laboratory work per week.

SENIOR CLASS.—During the fall term a wider survey is taken of chemical phenomena and laws than is possible in the Junior Class, special emphasis being paid to the more recent developments of physical chemistry.

During the winter term special topics in industrial and agricultural chemistry will be discussed. The study of organic chemistry will be begun, and will continue through the spring term.

Three lectures and at least four hours of laboratory work per week.

TEXT-BOOKS.

Junior Class.—Essentials of Chemistry (Hessler and Smith); Tarr's Geology.

Senior Class.—Inorganic Chemistry (Hollemann-Cooper); Dennis and Whittelsey's Qualitative Analysis; Remsen's Organic Chemistry.

VIII. The School of Philosophy.

Professor Whitsitt.

The School of Philosophy is designed to supply a suitable introduction to philosophical studies and to awaken in the mind of students such a degree of interest in them as may induce them to undertake and prosecute additional researches. It is divided into three classes, the Junior, Intermediate and Senior. The Junior Class is required for the Degrees of B. S. and B. A. Students will not be accepted for the Intermediate and Senior Classes who have not completed the work in the Junior Class, or its equivalent.

The disciplines of the Junior Class are divided into courses as follows:

I. Psychology, in which attention will be given to the study of the mental life of animals as the same is related to questions of human psychology, and lectures will be given on the methods and results of animal psychology. The psychology of the child will next be treated in order to set forth the development of the mental life as it appears in the adult individual. Lastly, the discussion of adult human psychology will be undertaken.

II. Ethics, which is treated with reference to its scope and its relations to other sciences. Attention is given to the various theories of the moral standard, and to the moral life in its social and individual aspects, and likewise to the relations between ethics and metaphysics.

The disciplines of the Intermediate Class are arranged as follows:

I. Logic, in which consideration is given to the elements, as terms, propositions and syllogisms. The laws of thought, the rules of the syllogism, its moods and figures are carefully taught, as well as conditional arguments, fallacies, induction and other subjects.

II. The History of Philosophy, which is studied from its origin among the Ionians down to our own age. The rise of the various theories and tendencies and their connection one with another are pointed out. The connection between philosophy and life is insisted on, and the influence of philosophical ideas upon the progress of civilization.

The following courses are to be pursued in the Senior Class:

I. Political Economy, in which the gradual development of the science and the leading facts in the economic progress of the United States of America are considered, and then the various topics of economic theory are taken up in order. Especial attention is directed to the questions and conditions that prevail in our own country.

II. Sociology, of which the province is defined, and some of the laws of social phenomena are studied.

III. Experimental Psychology, which may also be taken if desired by members of the Intermediate Class, and in which certain aspects of sensation, perception, reaction and attention will be considered.

TEXT-BOOKS.

Junior Class.—Tracy's Psychology of Childhood; James' Psychology (Briefer Course), and MacKenzie's Manual of Ethics. In the Fall Term Tracy will be completed and some of the earlier chapters of James will be studied; in the Winter Term James will be completed; in the Spring Term Mackenzie will be completed.

Intermediate Class.—Jevons' Lessons in Logic and Weber's History of Philosophy. In the Fall Term Jevons will be completed; in the Winter Term the History of Ancient and Mediæval Philosophy will be studied, and in the Spring Term the History of Modern Philosophy.

Senior Class.—Bullock's Introduction to the Study of Economics; Giddings' Elements of Sociology, and Titchener's Experimental Psychology; Student's Manual, Qualitative. In the Fall and portion of the Winter Term Bullock's Economics; in the last portion of the Winter and all of the Spring Term Gidding's Elements. Work in Experimental Psychology will be carried on once a week throughout the session.

The select and valuable philosophical library of the late Prof. William D. Thomas was presented to the College by his family during the last session. The College Library also supplies standard periodicals in philosophy and sociology.

IX. School of History.

Professor Mitchell.

History is taught with the desire of presenting an insight into the past, so that the mind may be disciplined for the judgment of the present. History is regarded as one stream, with Rome as the great reservoir, into which the best of Greece and the Orient was emptied, and from which, by many outlets, Europe has been supplied. Facts are studied to discover principles and to explain social phenomena, and the method of instruction is from cause to effect. History is viewed more especially from the standpoint of politics and economics, for history is properly the account of the evolution of social organization.

This school is divided into three classes, as follows:

1. JUNIOR CLASS.—Ethnology will be outlined, followed by a discussion of such topics as primitive man, the beginnings of civilization, and the origin of civil society. The civilization of the non-Aryan peoples will then be taken up, after which the history of Greece will be treated chiefly from the standpoint of politics, literature, and art. The main facts of Roman history will be noticed, but especially its system of jurisprudence, its social and economic problems, and such institutions as have influenced the political and religious life of Modern Europe. The history of Europe will be considered under the following heads: (1) Origin of European States; (2) Imperialism and the Papacy; (3) Feudalism; (4) Renaissance and the Reformation; (5) French Revolution; and (6) Nationality and Democracy as realized in the Nineteenth Century.

2. INTERMEDIATE CLASS.—A rapid glance will be given to the political history of England, but more time will be consumed in tracing the growth of the English Constitution in its successive stages, from the Magna Charta to the Reform Bills of this century. The close connection between English and American institutions will be emphasized. In American history the period of colonization will be briefly summarized, after which the course will deal entirely with United States history. Much attention will be paid to the historical geography of our country.

3. SENIOR CLASS.—This course treats chiefly the vital movements of the nineteenth century, setting forth the results of experience as regards the structure of the State and seeking to explain the social and political tendencies that enter into modern life. Detailed study will be given to the Congress of Vienna, the unification of Italy, the founding of the German Empire, and the progress of democratic reform in England. A comparative study of the constitutions of France, Germany, Switzerland, Austria-Hungary, Great Britain, and the United States will be made. This course will be especially helpful to those who intend to study law.

TEXT-BOOKS.

Junior Class.—West's Ancient History; Robinson's History of Western Europe.

Intermediate Class.—Ransome's Advanced History of England; Morse Stephens' Revolutionary Europe; Channing's Students' History of the United States; Bryce's American Commonwealth.

Senior Class.—Woodrow Wilson's The State; Seignobos' Political History of Europe since 1814.

Senior History can be offered for the M. A. degree. The method of instruction places emphasis upon written reports on special topics assigned from time to time to members of the class.

English Bible.

The aim is to acquaint students as thoroughly as is practicable with the Scriptures as the inspired Word of God. The history, geography, and literature of the Bible, with necessary exegesis, serve to throw light upon the sacred text and to discover the divine mind and spirit in this revelation. Intelligent knowledge, by systematic effort, of the Maker and Ruler of all, is essential to complete education, gives unity to the different departments of human learning, and is due to Him "who lighteth every man that cometh into the world." The courses are adapted to students of all grades, with no reference to any particular profession in view. They are free to all matriculates of the College. There will be three courses of study, one in the Gospels, one in the Acts and Epistles, and one in "Old Testament Characters." These courses will be conducted by Professors Gaines, Whitsitt and Harris in the order named. Each class will recite once a week at an hour to be announced at the organization of the class. A credit of one point will be allowed on each of the three courses, provided, however, that no student shall be credited in any year with more than one point. It is further provided that a credit on Bible work shall not be included in the fifteen required points of the English-Philosophical group.

Physical Culture.

Carefully arranged courses in Physical Culture are offered free of cost to every matriculate of the College. During 1902-1903 two classes were given daily exercises in the gymnasium and instructed in the principles of hygiene. All students are urged to join one of the classes. Each student, on entering a class, is given a physical examination, in order that any lack of development may be noted and the proper exercise prescribed. At the close of the session's work the measurements are again taken, and, on the basis of attendance and physical improvement combined, certificates are awarded.

Hot and cold baths are provided in rooms adjoining the gymnasium, which are kept open, without charge, six days in the week. In the dressing-room are lockers, which are rented to students at fifty cents each. The spacious campus affords ample opportunity for recreative exercise. Grounds are laid out for foot-ball, base-ball, basket-ball, track athletics, tennis, and croquet. The College recognizes the intelligent care of the body as essential to intellectual power, and encourages every beneficial form of physical exercise.

University Extension.

For many years series of popular lectures have been delivered in Richmond and elsewhere by professors in the College. In the spring of 1892 was given the first regular Extension course with syllabus, class-work, and guided reading. While the College has no organized department for carrying forward this important work, it will in the future continue to extend higher educational advantages to those unable to attend College classes.

The Thomas Lectures.

These Lectures are provided for by "The Thomas Museum Lecture Endowment" of $10,000, donated by his family in memory of the late President of the corporation, James Thomas, Jr. They are delivered annually by eminent men of our own and foreign countries on Science, Philosophy, Art, or Literature, and by special provision are open to the public without charge. The following distinguished scholars have delighted large audiences and greatly stimulated literary and scientific research:

Charles A. Young, Ph. D., of Princeton; H. Newell Martin, Ph. D., of Johns Hopkins University; William T. Harris, LL. D., U. S. Commissioner of Education; President D. C. Gilman, of Johns Hopkins; Robert Y. Tyrrell, University of Dublin, Ireland; Horace H. Furness, Ph. D., LL. D., of Philadelphia; Professor C. T. Winchester, A.M., of Wesleyan

University; Albion W. Small, Ph. D., of Chicago University; G. Stanley Hall, Ph. D., LL. D., President of Clark University; James Henry Breasted, Ph. D., of Chicago University; Professor Woodrow Wilson, Ph. D., LL. D., of Princeton University; President Benjamin Ide Wheeler, Ph. D., LL. D., of the University of California; Hamilton Wright Mabie, LL. D., of New York; Sir Robert Ball, of Oxford; Henry Van Dyke, LL. D., of Princeton; and Lorado Taft, of Chicago.

There will be two courses of lectures on the Thomas Foundation in 1903-'4. The autumn course will be on "Education." The subject of the spring course and the names of the lecturers will be announced later.

School of Law.

Professor Gregory.

Professor Minor.

Professor Long.

This school, established in 1870, and continued with slight interruption till 1882, was in 1890 firmly re-established. The location is eminently suited for combining practical with theoretical instruction, by reason of easy access to the numerous courts—Federal, State, and Municipal—held in the city of Richmond, and the large and well-selected libraries—law and miscellaneous—of the State and the College.

The design of the school is to provide for the student a complete course in the general principles of the Anglo-American Law and their applications. To this end are taught the following subjects, to-wit: The Common Law, Statute Law, Criminal Law, Commercial Law, Equity Jurisprudence, Constitutional Law, and International Law. There are two classes in the school. The following schedule is an exhibit of the subjects and by whom taught in each class, and the text-books used as the basis of instruction.

Junior Class.

The Law of Persons, which includes the subject of agency; the Law of Personal Property, embracing contracts, sales, wills, administration, legacies, and partnership; the Law of Insurance.

TEXT-BOOKS.

Vol. I. Minor's Institutes; Burke's Property Rights of Married Women in Virginia; Vol. III. Minor's Institutes; Richards on Insurance.—Professor Gregory.

Criminal Law and Procedure.

TEXT-BOOK.

Minor's Synopsis of the Law of Crimes and Punishments.—Professor Minor.

Corporations, Constitutional, and International Law.

TEXT-BOOKS.

Vol. I. Minor's Institutes; Elliott on Private Corporations; Cooley's Principles of Constitutional Law; Davis' Outline of International Law.—Professor Long.

Senior Class.

The Law of Negotiable Instruments.

TEXT-BOOKS.

Selover's Negotiable Instrument Law; Virginia Negotiable Instrument Act.—Professor Long.

The Law of Evidence.

TEXT-BOOK.

Greenleaf on Evidence.—Professor Minor.

The Law of Pleading and Practice in Courts of Law in civil cases; the Law of Real Property; Equity Jurisprudence; Pleading and Practice in Equity.

TEXT-BOOKS.

Vols. IV. and II. Minor's Institutes; Adams' Equity.—Professor Gregory.

For Reference: Blackstone's Commentaries; Barton's Law Practice; Barton's Chancery Practice; Lomax Digest of Real Property; Sands' Suit in Equity; Sams on Attachment; Va. Law Register; Graves' Title to Personal Property; Virginia Reports; Code of Virginia and Pollard's Supplement.

It is expected that text-books will be taken up in the order named above, but the Faculty reserve the right to rearrange subjects between classes, and to change text-books as may be deemed beneficial to the school.

The instruction is thorough and is given through text-books and lectures, with daily oral examinations. The course is arranged for two sessions, and the student is advised to devote that time to it. But one, earnest and diligent, who has, before entering the school, become somewhat acquainted with the nomenclature of the law, may, by devoting the entire session of nine months to the study of the subjects embraced in the course, achieve the degree of Bachelor of Law in one session.

The Junior Class meets 4:30 to 5:30 P. M., and the Senior Class 5:30 to 7 P. M. The hours for meeting the classes are chosen with a view of enabling the student (who desires it) to attend all the lectures in the course; also, to give an opportunity to law students wishing to take classes in the Academic Department of the College and (vice versa) to do so; and, also, to suit the convenience of young men in business who can only give a part of the day to the study of law.

Certificates of Proficiency are conferred upon those who attain a sufficient knowledge of Criminal Law, Evidence, Negotiable Instruments, Corporation Law, Insurance Law, or of Constitutional and International Law (the two last being required for one certificate) to entitle them thereto; and, when conferred, dispense with further study of those subjects to take the degree of Bachelor of Law. The lectures upon all other subjects than those for which Certificates of Proficiency have been conferred and must be attended, and the examinations (oral and written) thereon stood during the session the degree of B. L. is applied for.

To acquaint the student with the details of practice in the drawing of deeds, wills, and other instruments; the institution and maturing of suits at law and in equity; the preparation of pleadings; and the conduct of causes in court, a Moot Court is organized about the middle of the session, in which satisfactory work is expected to be done to obtain the degree of Bachelor of Law.

The extent and scope of the work done in the Moot Court will appear from the following Rules and Regulations under which the court is organized:

Rules and Regulations of "T. C. Williams' Moot Court."

1. This court shall be called "T. C. Williams' Moot Court" of Richmond College.

2. It shall have jurisdiction of all cases cognizable in the courts of record in Virginia.

3. The members of the Law Faculty shall be judges of the court, any one of whom may hold a county, corporation, or circuit court; a majority of them, sessions of the supreme court of appeals. No judge shall sit upon a case in which he sat as judge in the court below. When on the bench, the T. C. Williams professor of law shall preside; in his absence the senior professor of law, in length of service, present and sitting.

4. The officers of the court shall be a clerk, a deputy clerk, a sheriff, a deputy sheriff, three commissioners of accounts— one for each court of probate represented— and five commissioners in chancery for the corporation and circuit courts; all to be elected by a majority vote of the members of the court present and voting.

5. The regular sessions of the court shall be held on alternate Fridays at 5 P. M. Special, with like jurisdiction as regular, sessions may be called at any time by one of the judges of the court, at his discretion.

6. Process shall run in the name of the Law School of Richmond College, and be attested by the clerk of the court.

Service may be upon defendant's attorney, but return shall state it was made upon the defendant himself.

7. Every Thursday, from 4 P. M. to 5 P. M., shall be rule-day. All pleadings must be filed in duplicate, the original to remain in the files of the court, the duplicate to be handed to the attorney of adverse party, on his request.

8. Judgments, except those in the clerk's office, to be put in form, orders, and decrees drawn by counsel, and, when directed to be entered, filed with the clerk.

9. The proceedings of this court, except so far as modified by its rules, will conform to those of the several courts it may represent, and to the statutes of Virginia in relation thereto.

10. In counting time for this court, in respect to service of notice and confirmation of accounts, one day shall be considered a week, and a week a month.

11. The proceedings of every court shall be entered in a book and read in open court by the clerk. After being corrected, where it is necessary, the record shall be signed by the presiding judge.

12. The roll of members shall be called by the clerk immediately after the opening of each session of the court; the names of absentees noted, and a fine of 25 cents entered by the clerk against each absentee.

13. For good cause, the presiding judge may remit a fine; if neither paid nor remitted in two weeks, it may be recovered, by motion, in this court on two days' notice—the proceedings to be in the name of the Law School of Richmond College. Moneys collected from fines to be applied to expenses of this court.

14. Without leave of court, no motion for judgment shall be made under Section 3211 of Code of 1887, as amended by chapter 110 of Acts of 1895-'96; nor shall any suit be dismissed without like leave.

15. Each session of the court shall be opened by the sheriff with the following proclamation:

"O'Yez! O'Yez! O'Yez!

"Silence is commanded, on pain of fine, while the 'T. C. Williams' Moot Court' is in session. All persons having motions to make, pleas to enter, suits to prosecute, or other business before this court, will come forward and they shall be heard.

"May all persons present, during the session of the court, deport themselves in a decorous and gentlemanly manner."

Fees in School of Law.

Matriculation	$20 00
Tuition in Junior Class	40 00
Tuition in Senior Class	60 00
Tuition in both classes, when taken together	75 00
Refundable contingent	2 50

The matriculation fee and half of the tuition fee are payable at entrance. The second half of tuition fee is payable in February at beginning of spring term. No honors are announced until all fees are paid in full.

Students who have won as many as four Certificates in the Junior Class pay the fees of the Senior Class only. All others who wish to take the Senior Class must pay seventy-five dollars tuition.

Most students enter for the Junior Class. Their fees for the entire session, therefore, amount to $62.50, of which $2.50 is refundable July 1st. The matriculation fee admits a student to all College privileges, such as use of library, gymnasium, bath, etc. If law students desire to reside on the College grounds, they may engage rooms and table board on equal terms with academic students. Rates are fully stated further on in this catalogue under the head of "Expenses."

The cost of all text-books needed for the entire Law course is about $75.

Prizes.

For excellent work in the Law School valuable prizes, consisting of sets of law books, were awarded in June, 1903, as follows:

Senior Class.—First Prize—J. C. Daniel, Richmond.
Second Prize—S. H. Sutherland, Dickenson county.
Third Prize—Isadore Schapiro, Richmond.

Junior Class.—First Prize—W. A. Leake, Richmond.
Second Prize—S. C. DeCamp, Richmond.
Third Prize—J. J. Blake, Richmond.

The Library.

C. H. Ryland, D. D., Librarian.

The Library Department of the College deserves special mention. The hall is exceptionally attractive, both in appearance and comfort. The equipment is of a high order, combining utility and beauty. Paintings and sculpture throw the charm of art over the whole. While the literary treasures of the College are provided with so imposing a home, they are not withdrawn from the student. No part of the College is more freely open to the student body. No fee is charged. Appreciation of the advantages offered and propriety of conduct are the only requirements for the free use, during the entire day, of the hall and its bounties. The great aim of the management is to afford agreeable educational pastime for students at leisure, and to promote by the best methods and amplest resources scientific research and exhaustive critical study for those who need to pursue lines of investigation. Encyclopedias, lexicons, and a full line of other reference books and student helps are at hand in open cases, while reading tables, supplied with the best current literature, American and foreign, are accessible at all hours.

The Catalogue shows a steady gain in the best authors, selected with special reference to class work and a generous culture. The number of volumes increased during the past session from 13,866 to 14,580. The books may not only be freely consulted in the hall, where four large revolving Cases, filled with the best reference books, are placed, but are loaned to those who desire longer time for research. During the past session 2,970 volumes were borrowed, covering a wide range of general literature—poetry, fiction, history, biography, science, philosophy, and religion.

The largest individual gift of books during the past year came from Mrs. William D. Thomas, of Richmond, in memory of her husband, the late Professor of the School of Philosophy, who added 100 volumes on Philosophical subjects.

The Law Alcove.

A special feature in the hall is the alcove devoted to The Heaton Law Library, founded by the late Mrs. Harriet M. Purcell, at a cost of $3,000, in honor of her deceased brother, Hon. Henry Heaton, of Loudoun county. On this foundation of the most approved and valuable works on law, the College is building by yearly accessions of valuable Reports from the General and State Governments, and all necessary Current Magazines. The students in the Law Department are given access to this Law Library, and use it very freely.

Bible Study and Sunday Reading.

A special Reading-Room for the Young Men's Christian Association has been fitted up. Here is the Missionary Library—the religious periodicals and appliances for the thorough study of the Sunday-school lesson. On Sunday afternoon this special reading-room may be the gathering place of all students who can be induced to read, for pleasure or profit, the current religious literature of the country.

Bible study finds many accessories in the Library. A long line of the best commentaries on the Holy Scriptures are within reach, and the critical and experimental study of God's Word is constantly encouraged.

Museum.

The beautiful James Thomas, Jr., Museum and Art Hall has been dedicated to its specific use. Into it have already been gathered casts of celebrated statuary, paintings, and many valuable curios and objects of ethnographical interest from all lands. Recently there were added, by gifts from the family, the life-size busts in white marble of Mr. James Thomas, after whom the Hall is named, and of Hon. J. L. M. Curry, so long Professor and Trustee and the great patron of education. There are also life-size casts of Venus de Milo, Apollo Belvedere, and the Borghese Warrior; also busts of Homer, Vergil, Dante, Milton, Shakespeare, Tennyson, Napoleon, Luther, Columbus, Julius Cæsar, Sophocles, Sappho, and Clytie. Other additions have been the Greek relief of "Venus Persuading Helen to follow Paris," Thorwaldsen's "Apollo and the Muses," and a large oil painting, "Paul and Virginia," by Mrs. Emilie Lasar, of Portland, Me. By a suitable arrangement of cases, there is an attractive display of rare curiosities from our own and foreign lands, the gifts of trustees, alumni, and generous friends. Rev. Hugh P. McCormick, of Porto Rico, and Mrs. W. E. Hatcher, of Richmond, have filled cases that are of exceptional value. A valuable collection has also been received from Rev. R. E. Chambers, of China, and from Rev. W. McS. Buchanan, of Japan. Gifts of statuary, paintings, photographs, and objects of artistic or historical interest are gladly received. The Librarian is curator, and contributions should be forwarded to him.

Student Organizations.

Literary Societies.

Two literary societies, known as the Mu Sigma Rho and Philologian, are maintained by the students, and are recognized as agencies of great value in scholastic training. They are provided with elegant halls, where they hold weekly meetings for declamation, debate, and other literary exercises. Besides the joint oratorical contest held in the spring, each society arranges for at least one public debate during the session. The two societies unite in publishing the Messenger, a monthly magazine of about seventy-five pages. A generous rivalry is maintained between the two organizations by the joint offer of an orator's medal and a writer's medal, and among the individual members by the offer in each society of a medal for improvement in debate and for the best debater. The medalists for 1902-1903 were as follows:

Joint Orator's.—W. P. Powell, Philologian.
Joint Writer's.—E. P. Buxton, Mu Sigma Rho.

Mu Sigma Rho.

Improvement—D. S. Freeman.
Best Debater's.—J. B. Lightfoot, Jr.

Philologian.

Improvement.—C. D. Wade.
Best Debater's.—J. L. Powell, Jr.

The literary societies hold membership in the Virginia State Intercollegiate Oratorical Association, which is composed of the societies of the leading colleges and universities of Virginia. Representatives from the two Societies won from the literary societies of Wake Forest College last Thanksgiving the silver cup offered by the Raleigh Chamber of Commerce for excellence in debate.

Law Association.

During the session of 1895-'96 the Richmond College Law Association was organized by students of the School of Law for the discussion of literary and legal questions. Meetings are held once a week.

Y. M. C. A.

The students maintain an active Young Men's Christian Association, whose object is to promote the spiritual and moral welfare of the College and to do religious work in the city. The Association has charge of all prayer-meetings in College, and its members conduct services or teach Bible classes at the City Hospital, the Confederate Soldiers' Home, the Locomotive Works, the Home for Incurables, and at several mission stations in the suburbs. A pleasant feature of the work in College is the arrangement made for meeting new students upon their arrival, and showing them many needful courtesies.

Connected with the Association is a flourishing MISSIONARY SOCIETY, which meets twice a week for study of the habits, customs, prevailing religions, and geography of foreign countries. The Society owns an independent library.

Athletic Association.

Outdoor sports are fostered and encouraged at Richmond College. Details of management are entrusted to the Athletic Association, composed of students and professors, but the President and Faculty exercise general control. The annual Field-Day contests are admirable incentives to physical culture.

The following regulations governing Athletics have been adopted by the Faculty:

REGULATIONS GOVERNING ATHLETICS.

1. The President of the College has general oversight and control of field and track athletics, and is authorized to forbid any features in these exercises which endanger the health or morals of the participants.

2. Only matriculated students are eligible to play on a College team in any public contest. The Faculty reserves the right to remove from the team at any time any member who may neglect his class duties, or prove himself in any way unworthy.

3. Each team is allowed four trips from College, provided that these four trips do not involve being away from College more than four school days. All proposed games must have the approval of the President of the College before engagements are made.

4. No student under 21 years of age is permitted to become a member of a regular team except upon written permission from his parent or guardian, addressed to the President of the College.

5. Any member of an athletic team who is reported for neglect of his duties or non-attendance on lectures may be required by the Faculty to sever his connection with such team.

6. Athletic teams are permitted to engage in contests away from Richmond only with teams from other institutions of learning.

Society of Alumni.

The Alumni of the College have long been organized into a Society which holds annual meetings to renew old associations, maintain a close connection with Alma Mater, and further the cause of education and letters. For several years the custom has been to have an annual banquet on Tuesday of Commencement week. The officers of the Society are:

J. TAYLOR ELLYSON, Esq., Richmond, Va.....President.
REV. D. K. WALTHALL, Ph. D., Chestnut Hill, Va., First Vice-President.
REV. JAMES H. FRANKLIN, Cripple Creek, Col., Second Vice-President.
REV. A. J. RAMSEY, Berkley, Va.....Third Vice-President.
PROF. W. A. HARRIS, Ph. D., Richmond, Va.....Secretary.
MR. C. M. GRAVES, Richmond, Va.....Treasurer.

Degree men are members of the Society without election, and all former students are eligible for election. The initiation fee of $3 has been abolished, and an annual fee of $1 substituted therefor.

LOCAL CHAPTERS.

In May, 1898, there was organized in Louisville a Chapter of the General Society of Alumni, which is known as the "Kentucky Association of Richmond College Alumni." The Kentucky Association holds annual meetings in May. The present officers are: Dr. S. E. Woody, Louisville, president; Professor W. O. Carver, Louisville, secretary and treasurer.

In February, 1899, the alumni resident in Norfolk, Va., and vicinity organized a "Norfolk Chapter of Richmond College Alumni." The chapter holds annual meetings in February. The present officers are: Rev. J. J. Taylor, D. D., Norfolk, president; C. W. Coleman, Esq., Churchland, secretary and treasurer.

In April, 1903, there was organized in Newport News, Va., a "Peninsular Chapter of Richmond College Alumni." The Chapter will hold annual meetings. The officers are George A. Schmelz, Esq., Newport News, president; Professor E. S. Ligon, Newport News, secretary and treasurer.

The President of the College will be glad to correspond with Alumni who desire to form local associations.

Honors and Degrees.

Monthly Reports.

Instruction is conveyed by the use of approved text-books, supplemented by oral explanations and additions, in some cases by more formal lectures, and in most of the classes by exercises to be written and carefuly corrected. In every class the student is questioned on the assigned portion of the text or the previous lecture. An account of the value of these recitations and exercises is kept by the Professor, and the average standing for each month is calculated and entered of record for reference in determining his right to any of the honors of the institution.

To the parent or guardian is sent, monthly, a transcript of this record of class-standing, with a statement of the absences of the student from his classes, and such other information as may be deemed important. By the prompt and judicious attention of those to whom they are addressed, these reports may be made of great value in promoting improvement and sustaining a just discipline.

Examinations.

Besides the daily questioning, there are held in every class three general examinations conducted in writing. These examinations are held at the close of the fall, winter and spring terms. All examinations are limited to three hours. Recitations are suspended during the examination period.

The answers furnished by each student to the examination questions are carefully valued, and this valuation is equitably combined with the average of his class standing. If the mark of a student, as thus ascertained, amounts to eighty per centum he is ranked in the first division; if to less than this, but not less than fifty per centum, in the second division; if to less than fifty, in the third division. Only those students who attain rank in the first division, at all three examinations, are entitled to points in the estimates for degrees.

Certificates of Distinction are awarded to students who attain the first division at any examination, and their names are published or announced in the closing exercises of the session.

Students who fail to obtain certificates of distinction at the regular examinations, or for any reason do not stand these examinations, have no right to pass to the next higher class in a department. For sufficient reason, special examinations may be granted by the Faculty. All special examinations for entrance to higher classes must take place within the ten days beginning with the Tuesday preceding the opening of the College session.

Certificates of Proficiency are conferred on students in the School of Law who attain the first division at all examinations in certain complete subjects of study, to-wit: In Constitutional and International Law, in Criminal Law, in Evidence, in Corporation Law, in the Law of Insurance, and in the Law of Negotiable Instruments.

Diplomas are conferred on those who attain to the first division in the full course taught in each school or department, to-wit: Latin Language and Literature, Greek Language and Literature, French Language and Literature, German Language and Literature, English Language, English Literature, Mathematics, Physics, Chemistry, Philosophy, and History.

Medals.

I. The Tanner Medal.—Founded by Colonel William E. Tanner, of Richmond, Virginia, in honor of his parents, John F. and Harriet L. Tanner—is given to the most proficient graduate in the School of Greek.

II. THE JAMES D. CRUMP PRIZE.—Founded by the gentleman whose name it bears—is a prize of twenty dollars, in gold, given for excellence in the Intermediate Class of Mathematics. It is awarded in part on the regular class work and in part on extra work.

Degrees.

The Professional Degree of Bachelor of Law (B. L.), and the Academic Degrees of Bachelor of Science (B. S.), Bachelor of Arts (B. A.), and Master of Arts (M. A.), are conferred by the Trustees on recommendation from the Faculty. They cannot be given either in course or as honorary degrees.

FOR BACHELOR OF LAW is required graduation on all the subjects included in the Law School, with some proficiency in general education.

All subjects taught in the Academic Schools of the College are now classified under three groups, viz.: (I.), a Foreign Language Group; (II.), a Scientific Group; and (III.), an English-Philosophical Group. Students who attain the first division (i. e., make eighty per cent.) on the examinations in any class, are entitled to the points set after that class in the groups printed below:

FOR BACHELOR OF SCIENCE is required eight points from Group I., thirty-two points from Group II., and eleven points, including Junior English and Junior Philosophy, from Group III.

FOR BACHELOR OF ARTS is required a total of seventy points, of which twenty-four points, including one diploma, must come from Group I.; fifteen points, including Junior Mathematics and Junior Physics or Junior Chemistry, from Group II.; fifteen points, including Junior English and Junior Philosophy, and not including the Bible Course, from Group III. The remaining sixteen points may come from any or all of the groups.

The candidate for Bachelor of Science or Bachelor of Arts must submit to the Faculty by May 1st of the year in which he expects to graduate, an oration or essay, composed by himself, which he shall deliver in public at the close of the session, if so directed.

Candidates for any of the degrees mentioned above are required to submit to the Faculty eight months before Commencement a written application for the degree sought, together with a statement of class-work already accomplished, and of that which remains unfinished.

The applicant for the degree of MASTER OF ARTS must previously have met all requirements for a B. A. degree. In addition to this he must obtain from the Faculty, at the beginning of the session in which he expects to take the M. A. degree, formal approval of his course of study. This course must embrace four senior classes, no one of which shall have been offered for the B. A. degree. The most advanced class in each of the following departments counts as a senior: Latin, Greek, French, German, English Language, English Literature, Mathematics, Chemistry, Physics, History, and Philosophy. The candidate for the M. A. degree must also submit to the Faculty not later than April 15th preceding the close of his course of study, a type-written or printed thesis on some topic within the field of his year's work. This thesis must show an intelligent grasp of subject and the power of original investigation. The subject of the thesis must be submitted to the Faculty within two months from the date on which the candidate is notified of the approval of his course of study.

A Bachelor of Arts of another institution of learning who enters Richmond College as a candidate for the degree of Master of Arts, must first satisfy the Faculty that his previous scholastic work is equivalent in amount and quality to that required for the B. A. degree in Richmond College. He will then be accepted as a candidate for M. A., subject to the same conditions imposed upon graduates from this College. Bachelors of Arts who are deficient in any of the courses required here for B. A., will be given opportunity to make up the deficiency.

Admission of Women.

The advantages of Richmond College are open to women on the conditions named below:

1. In order to be admitted to matriculation, female students must have attained the age of eighteen years.

2. They must show by examination or otherwise, to the satisfaction of the President, that they are prepared to enter with profit at least three of the following classes, viz.: Intermediate Latin, Intermediate Greek, Intermediate Mathematics, Senior English, Senior German, Senior French, Junior Philosophy, Junior Chemistry, Junior Physics, and Literature.

3. Those who fulfill these conditions may elect any of the courses offered in the academic departments of the College, and will be eligible to all distinctions and diplomas, and to the degrees of Bachelor of Science, Bachelor of Arts, and Master of Arts on the same conditions that apply to male students.

4. Female students will be required to pay the usual College fees.

5. The College authorities have not yet been able to provide dormitory facilities for women. Those who do not reside with parents or relatives must board at some place approved by the President. Arrangements will be made for students who request it.

6. A comfortable study hall is provided, for use of which an annual fee of $2.50 is charged.

The foregoing regulations were adopted in June, 1898. During 1898-'99, four young women matriculated. In 1899-1900, there were seven female students. In 1900-'1, and again in 1901-'2, six young women matriculated. In 1902-'3, there were eight matriculates, three of whom received degrees. One young woman has received the degree of B. S. and four the degree of B. A. Most young women who enter Richmond College have previously received degrees from excellent schools. Properly prepared students will be cordially welcomed.

For further information address the President of the College.

Information Concerning Entrance.

Session.

The session opens on the Thursday nearest to the 22d of September, and continues thirty-eight weeks. The next session, therefore, will open September 24, 1903, and will close June 16, 1904. Exercises are suspended for one week at Christmas, and on two separate days in the spring—Easter Monday, and "Field-Day," for competitive out-of-door sports.

Students are advised to be present at the opening of the session. This applies particularly to students who enter Junior or Sub-Junior classes. Students who are prepared for classes higher than Sub-Junior, and cannot enter in September, may enter with advantage at the opening of the winter or spring terms.

Selection of Studies.

The system of schools allows the selection by every student of such studies as will be most valuable in qualifying him for his future pursuits; but, while allowing such selection, the College holds that the man is more than the occupation, and will always encourage a regular and complete course. To this end the right is reserved to prescribe the studies of any who may be found unprepared for classes higher than the Junior in Latin, English, and Mathematics. A committee of the Faculty will assist the President in matriculating students, and will carefully advise every new student as to his course of study.

Every student is expected to attend at least three schools, and to adhere throughout the session to the studies selected on his matriculation. Students who desire to pursue special studies in one or more schools should communicate with the President.

Students are assigned to the several classes in a school according to their apparent attainments; but the Professor in charge of a department will, at any time, transfer a student to a higher or lower class in that department when, in his judgment, such a change is desirable.

Matriculation.

Every applicant for admission, upon arriving at the College, must report promptly to the President. If he has been a student at any other college, he should present satisfactory evidence of general good conduct while there. If he comes from an academy or high school, it is desirable that he should bring a testimonial from the principal showing what studies he has pursued and what progress he has made.

In case of reasonable doubt whether the applicant is prepared by his previous training to undertake collegiate work, the question will be decided by entrance examinations in any two that he may elect, or in all of the three Schools of English, Mathematics, and Latin. For entering the School of English the requirements are "a knowledge of Elementary English Grammar and ability to write with grammatical correctness"; for Mathematics, "a good knowledge of Arithmetic and Elementary Algebra through Simple Equations"; for Latin, "such acquaintance with Latin Grammar and Vocabulary as will enable one to translate simple prose." If found well prepared in all these the applicant may enter either these schools or others; if prepared on two of them, but not on the third, he will be allowed to matriculate, and will be aided in securing competent instruction, if desired, in the branch on which he is deficient.

When the question of preparation for College has been settled affirmatively, and the applicant has duly subscribed to the regulations, he will receive a permit to matriculate, and, upon presentation of this to the Treasurer of the College and payment of the required fees, his name will be placed on the rolls.

For statement concerning the matriculation of women, see special announcement on "Admission of Women."

Expenses.

MATRICULATION FEE.—Including entrance fee, use of public rooms, attendance, and all college privileges, $20.00. This fee must be paid at entrance, is not subject to deduction, nor in any case refunded. Students entering after the fall term pay three fourths of this fee. Those who enter for the spring term pay only half of the fee.

TUITION.—In academic schools, $70.00. Tuition has been fixed at $70.00, regardless of the number of classes or schools taken by the student. Whenever, for special reasons, a student is permitted to take one class only, the tuition fee will be $25. The tuition fee is payable one-half on entrance, the balance first of February, subject to deduction for time lost by late entrance or by sickness, if the time so lost be two consecutive months or more, but not subject to deduction for other cause or for less time.

FUEL, LIGHTS, AND LAUNDRY cost from $2 to $2.50 a month.

BOARD.—Excellent table board is furnished at the College Refectory at a cost not exceeding $11 a month. The average cost last session was $9.50 a month. Students pay only the actual cost, estimated month by month. The Refectory is a handsome brick building, located on the campus, and is in charge of an experienced matron, appointed by the President. The seating capacity of the hall is seventy-five. Prompt payment of bills is required.

Near the College are three or four boarding houses which furnish good table board at from $10 to $12 a month, and still others in which students can get furnished rooms, with fuel and light, for $18 to $20 a month.

At the request of the President, several families have consented to receive one or more students as boarders. Charges will be from $20 to $25 a month for furnished room with board and servant's attendance. Names and addresses of persons willing to receive boarders will be furnished on application.

Student Lodgings.

Three dormitories on the College grounds furnish lodgings for two hundred students. Named in order of their erection, these buildings are Robert Ryland Hall, DeLand Cottage, and Memorial Hall. All three are substantially built of brick, and were carefully designed for their present uses. Each building has its own toilet-rooms and sanitary arrangements of the most improved pattern.

In order that life at College may be as home-like as possible, the occupants of each dormitory are organized at the beginning of the session into a Club, which has general oversight of affairs in the building occupied by its members. It is the business of the officers of the Club to repress loafing, boisterousness of all kinds, and in every way to promote the social well-being of its members. The Club as a whole is held responsible for the building it occupies, and damages not individually accounted for are charged against members pro rata. Meetings are held whenever necessary. Students who prove themselves objectionable to their fellow-residents in any dormitory will be removed from the building upon recommendation of the officers of the Club. There are no club fees.

Each dormitory is in charge of an experienced janitor, who puts all lodging-rooms in order once a day. He also brings water and kindles fires. This service is paid for out of matriculation fees of students. Every effort is put forth by the College authorities to insure good order, cleanliness, and neatness in the dormitories.

Early application for rooms is advisable.

Robert Ryland Hall.

This building is four stories above a basement, and contains lodgings on first, second, third, and fourth floors for eighty students. A modern steel fire-escape connects all hallways with the ground. The rooms are 14x18 feet, ten to twelve feet in pitch, and are lighted by large windows. They are intended for two students. The rent of a room for the session of nine months, or for any part thereof, is ten dollars. In case there are two occupants, as is usual, each one pays five dollars.

Most of the rooms have open grates, others have coal-burning stoves. Students purchase their own fuel and lights. Coal bins are provided by the College for each room. Rooms are unfurnished, except that the College provides stove or grate, fender, and skeleton wardrobe. Furniture may be purchased new, or second-hand, and usually costs each occupant five to ten dollars.

Students lodging in this hall have free access to shower baths in the building.

DeLand Cottage.

This building is three stories high, and contains lodgings for forty-eight students. Six rooms on the third floor are each 14x18 feet. The remaining rooms are double, connecting rooms, each half of the room being 9x14 feet. The two apartments are connected by a door. One apartment is heated by open grate, and is intended for a study. The other is not heated and is intended for a bed-room. All rooms have large windows and are well ventilated. The charge for a double room, consisting of bed-room and study, is fifteen dollars for the session of nine months, or for any part thereof. The charge for any one of the six single rooms is ten dollars. When two students occupy a room, as is customary, each one pays for a double room seven dollars and fifty cents, or for a single room five dollars. Rooms are unfurnished, except that the College provides stove or grate and fender. Furniture may be purchased new, or second-hand, and at a cost to each student of from five to fifteen dollars.

Students lodging in DeLand Cottage have free access to tub and shower baths in an adjoining building.

Memorial Hall.

This building is three stories above a basement, and contains lodgings for seventy students. There are twelve double, connecting rooms, in which each apartment measures sixteen and one-half by nine and one-half feet; nine single rooms, sixteen and one-half by thirteen feet, intended for two students; and twenty-eight single rooms, sixteen and one-half by nine and one-half feet, intended for one student. All rooms and hallways are heated by steam at expense of the College. The charges for rooms include all expenses for heating. The rent of a double room for session of nine months, or for any part thereof, is forty dollars; for single room for two students, thirty-two dollars; for single room for one student, twenty-five dollars. When two students occupy a room, each pays half the rent.

Students lodging in Memorial Hall have free access to tub and shower baths in the building. A few rooms may be had furnished. The charge for use of furniture is eight dollars for session of nine months, or four dollars for each of two occupants. Students who rent a furnished room need to provide only bed clothing, lamp and toilet articles.. Students who take rooms in Memorial Hall, whether the rooms are furnished or not, must pay full amount of rent in advance.

THE MATRICULATION FEE, THE REFUNDABLE CONTINGENT, ROOM RENT, AND ONE-HALF OF TUITION ARE PAYABLE AT DATE OF ENTRANCE.. THE SECOND HALF OF TUITION IS PAYABLE FEBRUARY 1ST.

DIPLOMA FEES.—For every Certificate of Proficiency or School Diploma awarded the charge is $1. For a Degree Diploma, $5.

Students who desire to have made out for them such Proficiencies and School Diplomas as they may win, must deposit the necessary fees with the Treasurer one week before Commencement. Students who take degrees are required to pay for their Degree Diplomas.

LABORATORY FEES.—Students who take Chemistry or Physics are required to pay a fee of $5 for laboratory expenses in each class in either school.

REFUNDABLE DEPOSIT.—Students are required to deposit with the Treasurer $2.50 as contingent fee, to cover any damage to College property, or Library fines. This money, or such portion as the depositor may be entitled to, is returned July 1st, following close of the session.

Students need not keep money about their persons or in their rooms, but may, without expense, deposit it for safe-keeping with an officer of the College.

Candidates for the Ministry.

Ministers of the Gospel, of all denominations, and young men duly approved by their churches as candidates for the ministry, are admitted free of charge for tuition. They pay matriculation fee, and for fuel, lights, board, etc., the same with other students.

The Education Board of the Virginia Baptist General Association will render further assistance to worthy young men recommended by churches which contribute to the Board, and accepted after examination. For information on this matter address Hon. J. T. Ellyson, Corresponding Secretary, Richmond, Va.

Student Aid Funds.

The Trustees hold invested funds, the income from which is devoted to the assistance of young men who have proved themselves worthy, or who may be properly recommended, but who are not financially able to pay all College charges.

The Trustees are anxious to increase these very helpful funds, and gifts are earnestly invited.

The funds are divided into Scholarships and Donations; the Scholarships pay tuition; the Donations pay board. They are designated as follows:

Scholarships.

The two Memorial Scholarships, $1,000 each, founded by the Baptists of Virginia.

The Scholarship of the First Baptist Church, Richmond, $1,000.

The Joseph E. Brown Scholarship, $1,000, founded by Senator Brown, of Georgia.

The Brunet Scholarship, $1,000, given by Mrs. Sarah A. Brunet, Norfolk, Va.

The Davidson Scholarship, $1,000, founded by Mrs. M. E. Davidson, Millboro Springs, Va.

The two West Scholarships, $2,500, by George B. West, Newport News, Va.

The Fannie Lea Half Scholarship, $500, by Mr. and Mrs. Lea, of North Carolina.

The A. M. Poindexter Half Scholarship, $500, founded by the Dan River Baptist Association.

The Elizabeth Stetson Aid Fund, $5,000, given by John B. Stetson, of Philadelphia, in honor of his wife.

The Ella Williams Students' Aid Fund, $5,000, given by the late Thomas C. Williams, of Richmond, in memory of his daughter.

The William Hawkins Fund, $2,000, founded by the gentleman whose name it bears, a Philadelphian, to aid in educating godly, studious, deserving young men.

The Chambers Sisson (Culpeper, Va.) Scholarship, $1,000, founded by the gentleman whose name it bears.

The J. B. Jeter Scholarship, $1,200, bequest of Mrs. Mary C. Jeter, in memory of her husband, Rev. J. B. Jeter, D. D., one of the founders of the College, and long president of the corporation.

The W. T. Clarke (Prince Edward county, Va.) Donation, $1,000.

All of these donations have conditions attached, which are filed with the bonds, for the guidance of the Trustees.

Administration of Aid Funds.

The committee in charge have general instructions, in making their award of all Aid Funds, to give the preference—

First. To applicants already at College who have maintained a good standing both in character and study.

Secondly. To other applicants who shall present satisfactory testimonials from the school last attended, or from other persons who have had opportunity to judge, certifying to their health, attainments, habits of study, and moral character.

Thirdly. To those of either class who give reasonable assurance that they will complete a course of study leading to one of the degrees of the College.

The recipients of aid are expected to prove, as students, not only above censure in all respects, but actively helpful to the College by example and by earnest work.

The awards will be at all times subject to revision by the Trustees, who reserve the right to withdraw the privilege at any time on account of neglect of duty, serious misconduct, or failure to maintain an average standing of at least eighty per cent. in three schools.

These Aid Funds are awarded annually by a committee of the Trustees, which meets the first week in July. Applications for aid should be made to the President of the College, who will send blank forms to be filled up and returned.
